With Bre'al Products written approval, Customer may send a Core Return for warranty claim directly to its vendor; however, the Calendar days in which the Core Return is due to Bre'al Products will continue to accumulate, which may cause the Customer to incur Additional Exchange Fees, until the Core Return transaction is satisfied per the Agreement. Cores received with DER repair/s will not be accepted unless Bre'al Products (1) recognizes the DER repair to be authorized by the OEM, or (2) authorizes in writing the return of a Core having a DER repair. Cores received with PMA part/s will not be accepted unless Bre'al Products(1) authorizes in writing the return of a Core having the PMA part/s. then Bre'al Products reserves the right to charge the full Outright Value outlined in this agreement plus the repair shop evaluation, transportation costs, customs duties/taxes plus all additional expenses incurred relating to this transaction and return the core to the customer If core from customer is not returned due to PMA/DER parts or repairs Bre'al Products reserves the right to have these removed during the repair process and replaced with OEM parts at the customers expense. For any missing document as required above, the actual Off-Unit Core delivery date will be the date of full receipt of completion of the missing documents. Bre'al Products reserves the right to test/overhaul any returned Original Exchange Unit

8. Once the Core repair charges are submitted, Customer has three (3) working days to advise their acceptance/rejection of the applicable re-certification charges. Customer agrees that if no response is given to Bre'al Products within three (3) working days, then Bre'al Products has full authority to immediately approve the applicable repair charges and invoice the Customer the full relevant repair, shipping, handling charges and any other costs incurred as part of the transaction.

9. Customer agrees to pay Bre'al Products a handling charge of % 10 (minimum $100) of the applicable Core repair charges.

A) Pay Bre'al Products the full Outright Value outlined in this agreement plus the repair shop evaluation/scrap fee, transportation costs, customs duties/taxes plus all additional expenses incurred relating to this transaction.

B) Or, supply a replacement repairable unit within seven (7) days of issuance of the repair shop report, otherwise the full Outright value plus ancillary charges incurred as outlined above will be invoiced and the transaction considered concluded. Should the customer insist on supplying a replacement unit after this seven (7) day period, then customer agrees to pay additional exchange fee(s) for every further 21-day period until a valid exchange core is returned plus any evaluation costs, shipping charges and any other costs incurred as part of the transaction.

11. If the Core repair parts exceeds over ninety (90) days delivery, Bre'al Products reserves the right to invoice the full outright value plus the incurred shop evaluation fee and associated shipping charges and reject and return (at the Customers expense) the Core.

The "Customer Certified" core must be the same OEM part number as supplied, with a tag date within the past 30 (thirty) days and certified back to the same or higher level of condition and the same or higher level of shop repair as the Original Exchange Unit. (I.E. A supplied OEM overhauled unit will require a return of a freshly OEM overhauled core). Customer is to provide a full warranty coverage for the "Customer Certified" core; 6 months for SVC, 12 months for OHC from date of dispatch, not tag date. Due to lack of warranty coverage, Bre'al Products will not accept any "Customer Certified" core which has only been Inspected/Tested. If the Core is returned to Bre'al Products "Customer Certified" without the aforementioned consent, the certified Core will be subject to Bre'al acceptance and additional recertification charges may apply until complied to clause 1 of this agreement. The same charges will apply in case of receiving a Core with missing and/or non-original airworthiness certification and teardown report. All Core Exchange Units, will be sent to a Bre'al Products approved vendor repair station ONLY. 15. STANDARD EXCHANGE

Standard exchange prices are calculated with a standard repair/overhaul price provision for the core unit shipped back by the Customer to Bre'al. In the event that the core unit must undergo a major repair or the customers core has suffered physical damage, catastrophic failure or needs cost prohibited parts not routinely replaced during repair, the corresponding additional charges will be invoiced and the customer agrees to pay for the cost of these items. In case the core unit is BER or customer does not provide a repairable core, the customer will pay the core charge, in addition to the exchange fee. (Core charge is defined as the difference between the exchange price and the outright sale price). All other terms and conditions within this agreement apply.
